

ChicaGourmets!
And
Seasons Restaurant

FOUR SEASONS HOTEL CHICAGO
120 East Delaware Place

Invite You to Simply the Best!

Saturday, November 4, 2006
12:30 PM Reception, Book Signing and Luncheon

Dorie Greenspan is sought after by all the best chefs to work on their books with them. Why? She is a fabulous home cook with extensive French baking expertise, and she knows how to make recipes clear, lively, and easily understood on the page. When Julia Child chose Dorie to work with her on the bestseller Baking with Julia, it was, as Julia said at the time, because they were "really just a pair of home bakers."

ChicaGourmets! Hosts
Don Newcomb & Jim Price

Special Thanks to Paul Renzaglia, Bruce Morgenstern and Richard Faltz, President
Illinois Grape Growers and Vintners Association (IGGVA)

Seasons Restaurant

EXECUTIVE CHEF KEVIN HICKEY'S MENU

Canapés & Wine Reception
Traminette, Alto Vineyards

First Course

*A Tart of Moonglow Pears and Point Reyes Blue Cheese,
Dorie's Spiced Tart Dough and an Autumn Greens Salad with Pomegranates
Vignoles, Pheasant Hollow Winery*

Main Course

*Braised Kobe Beef Shortrib
Organic Parsnip Purée and Fall Vegetables from the Farm
Ring Neck Red, Pheasant Hollow Winery*

Dessert

*A Selection from Dorie Greenspan's
"Baking" from my home to yours...
Porto di Guido, Alto Vineyards
Seasons Pastry Chef, Michelle Antonishek*

We will enjoy extraordinarily creative cuisine at Seasons. Executive Chef Hickey's cooking shows a deep respect for the ingredients, which to him means shopping the world for the highest quality products and celebrating their natural form and essential flavors on the palate. Seasons is as opulent a dining room as you will find in the city. The seventh-floor location affords a grand view of Chicago's sweeping avenues and also features two private dining rooms for occasions that call for intimate settings.

Condé Nast Traveler recently ranked Seasons Restaurant as the third-best restaurant in Chicago in their second Restaurant Awards Reader's Poll. Recently named Chicago's "Most Romantic Restaurant," Seasons Restaurant has also received the AAA Five Diamond award.

Special Thanks to Hans Willimann, General Manager, Four Seasons Hotel Chicago

$79 per person, inclusive

For reservations, please contact Seasons Restaurant directly at 312-649-2363 with your credit card information. No refunds after November 1.