Leslie Sbrocco is the author of Wine for Women, which won The George DuBoeuf Wine Book of the Year Award, and a regular wine columnist for the San Francisco Chronicle. In The Simple & Savvy Wine Guide: Buying, Pairing, and Sharing for All, Leslie demystifies the often confusing world of wine, and teaches today's wine drinkers how to shop with enthusiasm, a sense of adventure, and most of all, confidence. Her new book is structured the way we enjoy wine: Wines for a Reason, Wines for a Season, Wines by Mood, Wines With Food, and much more.

Kiki's Bistro

Georges "Kiki" Cuisance, a native of Eastern France, began his restaurant business experience more than 50 years ago in Europe at places like La Closerie des Lilas in Paris, well known for its famous clients such as Ernest Hemingway. In December 1963, Kiki was brought to Chicago by Nancy Goldberg to help begin Maxim's of Chicago as its sommelier. This beautiful establishment has been donated to the City of Chicago. After Maxim's de Chicago, Kiki opened and became well known for his restaurant, Le Bordeaux on Madison Street in Chicago on January 1, 1969. Le Bordeaux had an authentically French, dreamlike quality in a subterranean atmosphere, providing an escape into another world and attracting a unique blend of clientele. Kiki later expanded opening Le Bordeaux on Michigan Avenue and finally opened his present restaurant, Kiki's Bistro in 1990.
