PLAYWRIGHT

Lois Piland

The Fosters and Mardens are the parents of a divorcing couple, trying to keep a friendship alive and finding it difficult in the face of their children's troubles. They have natural prejudices in favor of their own children. At a home dinner they find that there is so much pain and blame that they become increasingly hostile, defensive, and protective, and very uncomfortable in each others' company. They start out being casual, friendly and sympathetic, and then comments are interspersed that show their true feelings. Can this friendship survive?

Lois Piland wrote this amusing little play as a class exercise several years ago and now, through Landmark Education's Self Expression and Leadership Program, has decided to produce it as a community project and to share the production with ChicaGourmets. Lois lives and works in downtown Chicago & has been a member of ChicaGourmets for many years.
